PROFESSIONAL CONSULTATION/NMT SELF-STUDY PROGRAM

Neurologic Music Therapy Services of Arizona (NMTSA) is a non-profit Neurologic Music Therapy clinic located in Phoenix, Arizona. NMTSA was established to enhance the profession of music therapy for the good of the general public by providing preventative and rehabilitative neurologic music therapy services. As our mission states, we believe it is important to continually incorporate current research and best practice techniques, and to spread the knowledge of Neurologic Music Therapy (NMT) through professional trainings. Together, we can ensure the quality of NMT and continue to develop NMT as a profession. NMTSA believes it is important to support and encourage fellow NMT's in the field working with persons with autism, neurologic impairments, and/or developmental disabilities.

A NMTSA Professional Development Consultation includes:

- Teaching in the philosophy of movement disorders, philosophy of assuming competence, and application of NMT's interventions to persons with autism, neurologic impairments, and/or developmental disabilities.
- Observations and training in treating persons with autism, neurologic impairments, and/or developmental disabilities using NMT interventions.
- Ability to obtain CMTE's for Professional Self-Study
- Training and follow up after returning to your practice based on Professional Self-Study Goals
- Opportunity to observe the philosophy implemented with an elementary educational classroom setting

NMTSA asks that each professional:

- Identify and provide CBMT Self-Study Goals and a detailed outline of points of interest two weeks prior to arrival.
- Return signed confirmation 2 weeks before observation appointment
- Provide a deposit towards the program prior to start date and final payment on the last day of observation. Payment is based on a $75/hour sliding scale, dependent upon the program purpose. Payment is required for directed teaching/training time, not for observation time.
- Follow HIPPA rules and regulations while at the clinic
