Neurologic Music Therapy Services of Arizona

Professional Mentorship & Consultation Program

Program Descriptions

Mentorship

Mentorship opportunities are available for professionals who are seeking additional knowledge and support in relation to NMTSA's philosophy or the clinical application of Neurologic Music Therapy. Mentorships can be short or long term and can be adapted for individuals or teams. Goals are defined by the individual or group seeking mentorship. Content and format will be individualized based on specific needs, but can consist of session observations and meetings with Neurologic Music Therapists. Continuing education credits (CMTE) can be obtained through a non-standardized self-study through the Certification Board for Music Therapists (See CBMT Recertification Handbook for more information).

Consultation

If you are interested in seeking support for your current practice, but do not require a long-term mentorship, consultation may be a valuable option for you. This can consist of a one time in person, phone, or video chat meeting, or an on-site visit. Additionally as part of a consultation, you will receive follow up communication as you are implementing what was discussed.

Mentorship and Consultation Goals May Include:

- Learn how to implement the NMT model in your current music therapy practice
- How to receive reimbursement for NMT services
- Gain insight on how to use NMT techniques with a specific population(s)
- Learn more about how to use sensory strategies or total communication to enhance NMT practice
- Jumpstart your new NMT practice

Selecting a Program

Defining Your Needs

In order to determine the mentorship and consultation program that is most appropriate for you, it will be helpful to clearly define your needs. Items to consider include the number of participants, your desired timeframe, and the goal you are looking to accomplish. This should direct you to a specific program area.

Questions for Consideration

- Am I a group or individual?
- Am I seeking continuing education credits?
- Is this a short or long-term need?
- Do I want feedback and supervision on my current practice?
- Am I seeking hands on learning and continuing education?
- Am I looking for a one-time meeting for consultation on a specific situation, aspect of practice, or business development?

For more information or assistance in choosing a program tailored to your needs, please contact us at info@nmtsa.org

Program Descriptions

Training

When seeking education for a team of individuals, there are different training opportunities available. These opportunities are for those seeking more information about NMTSA's philosophy, accommodations for working with individuals with special needs, as well as those seeking Neurologic Music Therapy expertise. Training can be administered on a variety of topics for teams in a workshop format. For more of a comprehensive training experience, NMTSA can also assist with program development and modification. This includes training staff and helping to implement new concepts and practices.

Training Topic Areas May Include:

- How to utilize rhythm as a supportive technique in the classroom
- Further education on the Neurologic Music Therapy model
- A collaborative model between Neurologic Music Therapists, Instructional Assistants, Teachers, and therapy professionals
- Implementing sensory and total communication strategies in your school/clinic program

Supervision

Opportunities are also available for neurologic music therapy supervision. This is an opportunity if supervision is not available at your current place of employment, or you are specifically seeking supervision regarding Neurologic Music Therapy practice. This can again be formatted for an individual or a small group. Supervision is also available in a peer group format when a group of individuals from the community express a shared interest in learning more about NMT and seeking support for their practice.

Clinical Supervision Focus May Include:

- Workshopping a specific client, population, or situation
- Seeking feedback on execution of NMT techniques
- Receiving feedback prior to NMT Fellowship
